

THE GAZETTE.

FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 7.

ROMANTIC CRIME.—Recently the whole quarter of the Riviera di Chiava, Naples, Italy, was thrown into violent commotion, owing to a tragic affair which took place in the Villa Nazionale, resulting in the death of Miss Ada Schiassi and Mr. J. H. Gordon. Mr. J. H. Gordon, formerly of the British Indian civil service, had been for some months living at the "Pension Anglaise," kept by Madame Schiassi. Among the four daughters of Madame Schiassi were Ada and Louisa, (twins). Some time ago Mr. Gordon became attached to Ada and proposed to marry her, but the offer was refused by the mother, as the young lady was already engaged to a young naval officer.

Since then Mr. Gordon (who was about fifty years of age, and a widower) thought fit to annoy Miss Schiassi with his attentions to such an extent that the mother was obliged to request him to change his quarters as soon as possible. Yesterday morning, about a quarter before eleven, the twins, Louisa and Ada Schiassi, went to the gardens of the Villa Nazionale for the usual morning walk, where they were met by Mr. Gordon, who accosted Louisa, and asked her why they wished to get rid of him, and also the reason why her sister Ada refused to entertain his suit. On her refusing to listen to him he left her, and, approaching Ada, commenced upbraiding her, which she naturally refused to do, upon which he stepped back, pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired two shots at Ada, which entered her back, turned the revolver upon himself, fired two other shots, and fell dead.

The police authorities and a great crowd were immediately upon the spot, but all efforts were useless, as both the assassin and his victim were dead. At the inquest Ada was found to be shot through the heart. In Gordon's case death was caused by one of the shots having completely severed the aorta.

Gordon had taken the precaution to destroy all papers which might lead to his identification, and it was only through his bankers that the authorities have been able to find out any thing about him.—Naples Letter.

CUTLER'S POCKET INHALER.
It supersedes all other inhaling tubes and contrivances. It is equally adapted to the mouth and the nostril. It vaporizes and sprays. No steam required—no blowing necessary. The great obstacle to successful treatment by the inhaler, that the bottles and apparatus now in use are complicated and inconvenient, is by this curious little instrument entirely overcome. It is as simple as a tin whistle, and may be carried in the pocket as handsily as a penknife or a pair of scissors. No danger of breaking; no possibility of spilling; always ready, and may be used in the house or out of doors, lying down or sitting up, with the same ease and facility as a cigarette, or a lady's smelling bottle. For sale by
SAMUEL H. LUNT.

Mr. Samuel H. Lunt:
For about five years I have been suffering from a terrible cough. Nothing prescribed for it seemed to relieve it in the least. Some months ago I secured one of "Cutler's Pocket Inhalers." It caused almost instant relief. After using it for a few weeks so marked was the improvement in my cough, that it was noticed by all my friends, and by many with whom I had but a slight acquaintance. Most heartily do I recommend its use to all who are similarly afflicted. Very truly yours,
